PROBLEM

Aviation, a major global industry, relies on the highest safety standards. While technological advancements have modernized cockpits, flight operations, maintenance, and air traffic control, other areas remain largely analog. Digitalization is still in its early stages in many crucial aspects. Professional training for flight and technical staff is vital for safety, yet daily routines of aviation personnel worldwide are still mostly analog and could benefit from further digitization.

SOLUTION

The aim of our project is to lead the global aviation industry into a new era in certain areas. Especially in the field of aviation personnel training and development, as well as in daily operations, we aim to implement digitalization and leverage new technologies.

THE PROJECT

SKYGATE is developing a global decentralized blockchain-based network platform for the aviation industry. It aims to create a digital world for both commercial and private aviation sectors!

From this platform, millions of users worldwide can benefit!

TOKEN UTILITY

We want to make the entire project period exciting for our community. Some of our project utilities are already available at the start of the public-sale phase.

As the project progresses, more of our utilities will be released on an ongoing basis!

Whenever a project goal is reached, a new token utility is activated and the community is informed about it.

As our token utilities continue to grow, it is possible that the demand for SKYGATE TOKENS may increase exponentially. A resulting exorbitant price development of the SKYGATE TOKEN is possible!
